Burpee's Dahlias have been consistent prize winners for many years. Wherever exhibited they have carried off the highest awards possible. In addition to 15 Gold Medals, nine of which were awarded to us by the American Dahlia Society, Burpee's Dahlias have won many first prizes and other honors of the highest type. The Pennsylvania Horticultural Society acknowledged their outstanding value by awarding six Gold Medals to them.

The 1927 awards given to Burpee's Dahlias include a Gold Medal each from the American Dahlia Society and the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society; First Prizes (highest possible award) from the Camden Dahlia Society, and at the Trevoise, Pa. Dahlia Show. The American Dahlia Society, the New Jersey Dahlia Society, and the California Dahlia Society also awarded eleven Certificates of Merit to new Burpee varieties.

The flowers are full to the center throughout the season. They are thick but not ball-shaped, with broad, flat, somewhat loosely arranged petals. The points are broad or rounded; the tips may be straight or turned down and in some varieties the margins are slightly rolled back. Within recent years this type of Dahlia has been enriched with quite a number of outstanding novelties. Whether used for garden display or for cut-flowers they always give the greatest satisfaction.

The bulbs, roots, and nursery stock which we offer on these pages have been grown with the utmost care. Most bulbs add a touch to the garden which cannot be created by any other flowers. Some of our most popular flowers are grown from bulbs. Just think of Dahlias, Gladiolus, and Lilies! Yet there are many other flowers grown from bulbs or roots which deserve to be planted just as widely. As a rule, it is easier to raise flowering plants from bulbs or roots than it is from seed. There are flowers grown from bulbs for almost every purpose. Many of them are excellent for garden displays; others are used extensively for pot-plants, and there are also a number of quick-growing climbers. The special Burpee leaflets, How to Grow Flowers from Bulbs and Special Culture of Dahlias, will be sent free upon request. With each shipment of Nursery Stock we include a special little booklet telling you how to plant and care for Nursery Stock.

200K40

This fertilizer is made by the manufacturer of Fungtrogen and Aphitrogen, which are described on the opposite page. It is a ground dressing to be applied during spring or summer. Ferroen is a remarkable plant food, soil stabilizer, and ground dressing for Roses and many other plants. It is well-pulverized and therefore easily worked into the soil, supplying all the vital chemical elements, and stimulates vigorous root action. Many gardeners apply manure to their beds in the fall, and work it in during the spring. Ferroen should then be used because it adds certain elements to stable manure which are present therein in insufficient quantities. Ferroen is applied at the rate of 1 lb. to 100 square feet (10 by 10 feet) of bed. One lb. can $1.00; 2 lb. can $1.50; 5 lb. can $3.15, postpaid.
